Roses

We do not grow Roses. The growing of Roses is nowadays in the hands of specialists. We are, however, perfectly familiar with the best older and the newer varieties while the American and foreign horticultural papers keep us posted on the newest Roses of merit. We, therefore, can take excellent care of your orders for all classes of Roses, and will be glad to quote prices and suggest collections suitable for any particular climate and soil. We know the market; our prices are reasonable.

WE WILL BE GLAD TO SEND YOU

TO reach the Nursery, drive to the Dew Drop Inn at the intersection of the Jericho Turnpike and New York Avenue, Huntington, N. Y., about 35 miles from New York. Then follow the signs erected at the corners of intersecting roads. A short drive through a picturesque, rolling country will bring visitors to the Bagatelle Nursery.

The shortest way from New York is to follow the Long Island Motor Parkway. A sign "Bagatelle Nursery,"  $4\frac{1}{2}$  miles past the Huntington Toll Gate, shows where to turn left.
